Aversa Names Three Editors; Advances One

by Ellen Halbreich

Jim Aversa, Editor-in-Chief of the ITHACAN, has announced the appointment of three new Ithacan Editors and the advancement of a former editor.

Dave Canteen, last year's ITHACAN News Editor has been advanced to the Managing Editor position. He replaces Gary Gillan who did not return to IC this fall. Canteen, a junior Radio-TV major is president of his class and has served as a frosh camp counselor for the past two seasons.

The newly-appointed editors are: News Editor, Jay Tarses; Sports Editor, Bruce Theobald; and Feature Editor, Mike Ayers.

Tarses, a feature staff writer on last year's ITHACAN, has been appointed to the News Editorship vacancy left by the advancement of Canteen. Tarses, a junior Drama major has been active in the Drama School's major productions and is currently appearing on WICB-TV's Wednesday night variety show — "Showcase."

Bruce Theobald takes over the Sports Editorship vacancy caused by graduation. Theobald, a member of Phi Epsilon Kappa fraternity is a junior in the Physical Education Dept. He replaces Pete Peterson.

Mike Ayers, also a junior, replaces last year's feature editor, Luide Kisosonkole. Ayers, a transfer student from Fairleigh-Dickinson College, previously served as feature editor of that school's weekly paper.

All new appointments are effective until the final edition of the current semester.

SAI TO AIR TV MUSICALE

The members of Sigma Alpha Iota Music fraternity will present a television musicale next Monday night on Ithaca College station WICB. The show will be aired at 7 p.m. on cable channel 2.

The program will begin with the reading of the SAI Symphony and the SAI Chorale.

The program will include: Debussy's "Syrinx" played by flute soloist Judith Streeter; Benjamin Godard's "Le Cavalier Fantastique," played by pianist Wanda Forte; Tchaikovsky's "Adieu Forêts," sung by alto Joyce Olson; "Concerto For Two Trumpets," by Vivaldi performed by Carol Abbe and Helen Engle; and Benjamin Britten's "Carols" performed by the vocal ensemble, Barbara Nelson conducting.

Billy Odell turns the corner against Cortland. The Junior halfback ground out 101 yards in IC victory.

New Program Director

Miss Cooke To Direct Student Union Activities

by Mike Ayers

Amy Cooke is the new College Union Program Director and coordinator of student activities. Miss Cooke, intelligent and attractive, is determined to make this year's College union program the most successful ever.

This petite miss was born in Oak Park, Illinois and raised in Iowa. She attended Oberlin College for two years and then transferred to the University of North Carolina where she was graduated as a sociology major. The attractive blonde came to Ithaca to do graduate work in Student Personnel at Cornell University. At this same time she was assistant to the head registrar at Cornell University. The well travelled Miss Cooke then took a position as the University of Utah Union Program Director. Once again Amy returned to Ithaca to work on her thesis and finally earned her Masters from Cornell University.

With all these qualifications, coupled with desire and determination, Miss Cooke applied for and was eagerly accepted by the administration to fill one of the most important positions on campus. Through the Activities Office students can obtain meeting rooms, activity programs, and permission for the posting of publicity.

The sincere, hard working Miss had this to say for students of Ithaca College, "They exhibit terrific imagination and initiative and there should be student interest in developing quality." She added that there is a responsibility that all students must share and that is, "It takes more than staff to improve quality of student activities. Hard work and initiative are necessary and the ideas of things to do should come from the students."

It is interesting to note that the Federal Government will subsidize funds for the building of college unions and not academic buildings with the feeling that the Unions represent the "living room" of the campus and should thus present the personality of the College. According to Miss Cooke, "The idea of a college Union is that it be a home for a creative kind of living and not just a place to waste time or to kill an hour. This kind of living reflects an educated person. A college union reflects fun, ideals, culture and should always be buzzing with ideas. It is here that visitors to the College will capture the atmosphere of the ways of student living."

With all her activities on campus, Amy Cooke does find moments for herself and she is currently planning for her marriage to Mr. Milton

Interception By Segal Sparks Initial Drive

by Bruce Theobald

"Bring on Southern Connecticut" was all Coach Lyon had to say to bring bedlam from his squad in the dressing room last Saturday after the Bombers had just scored a highly impressive 34-0 shutout victory over arch rival Cortland State Teachers College.

The contest, played on South Hill in freezing temperature before a crowd of approximately 1,000, marked the sixth time that IC has emerged victorious in the 19 game series. Cortland has won ten while three have ended up in ties.

Since the 13-7 season opening loss to West Chester, ranked tenth last week among small colleges, Ithaca has strung together three straight victories. Cortland's record is 2-2.

The not so ferocious Red Dragon defense found it difficult to handle Billy Odell and company. Co-Captain Odell, again tabbed as "Back of the game" by the Eastern Small College Athletic Conference, gained more yards himself than the visitor's total rushing yardage. The fleetly halfback from Saranac Lake bulled 101 yards in 12 plays, averaging a mere 8.4 yards a carry, while the whole Dragon unit had trouble scraping out 90 yards on the ground. The Bomber team combined for 169 yards.

Ithaca's passing attack was probably the finest aerial performance in the College's history. Quarterbacks Larry Karas and Tom Vogt combined for ten completions in 13 attempts Karas connected on five of seven including two touchdown passes, and sophomore Vogt hit his mark five out of six times, one good for a two point conversion. In all, the passes were good for 188 yards compared to the loser's 159 yards. Cortland had only 6 completions in 20 attempts with Ithaca intercepting 2 of the first 3 Dragon tosses.

For the second straight week co-captain Ron Segal and fullback Tom Lockwood have copped the ECAC lineman, and sophomore, of the game honors.

Segal started the ball rolling for Ithaca as he snagged an aerial by Cortland's George Tucci and raced 20 yards untouched for a tally in the first period of play. Sophomore Sam Curko converted and IC was off to another win.

Soon afterward the Bombers had their second opportunity to score but muffed it. Gerge Neher grabbed another Tucci pass on the 27 yard line but fumbled the ball right back to the Dragons while being tackled.

After swapping hands with the ball, Ithaca drove 93 yards in ten plays for paydirt. On third down and less than a yard to go for a first down on Cortland's nine yard line, Karas dropped back and threw to Larry Grego for the touchdown. Curko kicked wide of the goal posts after a penalty put the ball back on the 18 yard line, and the score remained 13-0.

In this drive Odell was responsible for 74 of the 93 yards, 45 on the ground and a 29 yard pickup on a pass from Karas.

The local eleven kicked off and on the first play Ben Morselli pounced on a fumble on the Big Red's 33 yard line, and presented IC with another scoring break. A quick pass over the middle from Vogt to Morselli was good for a

Each fall, a Convocation is planned for freshmen students, at which the attendance of all freshmen is required. Upper-classmen are urged to attend.

This year's Convocation will be held this Saturday, at 10:30 a.m., in the Recreation Room on the top floor of the College Union Building. Jan Pearce, noted lead tenor of the Metropolitan Opera, will speak and Ithaca College will confer upon him the honorary degree, Doctor of Music.

Eight and nine o'clock classes will be held Saturday morning, October 1st.

Chester R. Przylucki, Jr., former football and wrestling star at Ithaca College, has been appointed an assistant professor in the Physical Education Department at Niagara University.

The Rev. Joseph T. Cahill, C.M., academic vice-president of the University, who made the announcement, said that Przylucki also will serve as head swimming coach and assistant baseball mentor.

A native of Utica, N.Y., Przylucki attended Whitesboro Central School prior to entering Ithaca College. He holds a Bachelor of Science and a Masters of Science degree from the latter school and currently is working toward his doctorate.

He holds a New York State director's certificate and formerly coached football at Ithaca High School and football, wrestling and track in the Plattsburg, N.Y. public school system.

Judges for the show will be selected this week.

HIGH TIDE

The term "school spirit" is a vague phrase which holds little meaning when there is a lack of it and great weight when it is in abundance. Any attempt at defining "school spirit" goes for naught because it is so indefinite a concept. When school spirit exists one knows it exists without knowing exactly why. When there is none, by the same token, one can feel its absence if it has never been or the abyss created by its departure.

This is a time when we at Ithaca College are standing on the threshold of something very big. Normally, the inconveniences created due to the changes this year would bring cries of complaint from many upperclassmen and feelings of apathy from others. However, to the shock of everyone involved, there is a general air of enthusiasm and excitement because of the change. Perhaps this is what is meant by school spirit.

Usually, the overall feeling of a college-at-large can be gauged by the freshmen who are a bit more pliable than the average upperclassmen and who get delight from hearing complaints and magnifying them. This year, the freshmen are optimistic to the point of gaiety. They led the successful pep rally prior to the Cortland game, supported the rock and roll party at the Student Union, and have displayed unusual ardor on other occasions. Perhaps these yearlings fresh from high school kept enough of that old school spirit within themselves to permeate the stoic upperclassmen. Maybe this is what is meant by school spirit.

Whatever it is, there is a new wave at Ithaca College that seems destined to roll on indefinitely. Every activity thus far has been on a grander scale with a bigger format. As long as we can achieve our undertakings successfully why try to fight the intractable tide if the results are beneficial. We are riding on the crest and if it all leads to increased school spirit, it really needs no definition. It is magically just happening.

LOOK MA, NO BRAINS

Little boys love to play with cars. The more intelligent the boys are the slower they drive. Ithaca College has some relatively dull South Hill Dorm residents the long drive driveway is taken as an example.

The driveway, usually dotted with pedestrians, offers an unusual opportunity for the boys to "top end" their cars away from the "cops."

We of the Ithacan wonder if it will be necessary for an IC student to be smashed to the pavement before the "boys" realize what a dangerous toy they are playing with.

This is an area in which IC students can assert their own good sense without any set of unnecessary rules. Having an automobile is a student privilege, not a right. Ithaca College is liberal enough to allow all students to bring their cars to school, a privilege not afforded by many schools. One incident of injury or death could be proper justification for removal of car privileges.

No student would want to be held responsible for the injuring, maiming or taking of another's life through immature driving antics. The Ithacan suggests students think these things over before skidding into the parking lot.

COMMENTARY

by Tom Mulvey

The crisis in Berlin has been in the making for many years. The present situation there cannot be blamed solely on the Kennedy Administration. We must look back to the three previous administrations in order to find all of the mistakes that led up to the present mess.

The Soviets had no intention of ever having a unified Berlin, as is evidenced by their behavior, both past and present. The people of West Germany claim that they have been hoping and working for a reunification of Berlin but they must have been aware, since the beginning of the occupation of Germany, that this could never become a reality. The so-called "reality" of two German States must now be accepted. Nothing, short of war, will change the situation.

The real boner of the Kennedy Administration, in the present crisis, was allowing General Clay to announce to the world that we were willing to defend Berlin even if it meant going to war in her behalf. If I were a Frenchman or an Englishman who had experienced the occupation of my country by the Nazis or the bombing of my country by the Luftwaffe, I think I would find it very difficult to agree to go to war on behalf of these same people.

Mister Khrushchev has made it quite plain that he is ready and willing to negotiate the Berlin situation. The Soviet Union has proven time and time again that their word, in any negotiations, is not to be held in high esteem. Still, negotiations on the matter of Berlin may help to avoid a war that is not wanted by any country in the world, including the Russians.

Propaganda Victory

The barricade erected by the Soviets between East and West Berlin can be counted as a great propaganda victory for the free world. Any action on our part to destroy the barricade would be considered an act of direct aggression and would certainly lead to another war, an atomic war of such tremendous power that it could lead to the destruction of the entire world.

In view of the possibility of all out war because of previous bungling, a try should be made at negotiations before taking any drastic steps over Berlin.

The burden of responsibility now lies squarely on the shoulders of the Kennedy administration. Without a doubt, they are capable, so let us hope a solution can be arrived at without resorting to another war.

COUNCIL NEWS

by Victoria Harding

The second meeting of Ithaca College Student Council was marked by a debate over an Administration proposed Publications Board.

Topics of Men's Student Government, and Student Court were tabled until each Council member could obtain a copy and present the proposals to class members for opinion. The issues will be discussed and voted upon at the next Council meeting.

The Board of Publications, proposed by Assistant Dean of Students Judson Hill, would provide financial aid as well as administrative advice on publishing procedure and problems. The ITHACAN, SOPHOMORE, and CAYUGAN would be subject to this board.

Council debated the question of whether the Board was already a matter of fact, or if the Student Council had a choice in instituting the Board. This question was left unanswered by the Dean and the debate.

The proposal was referred to a committee of Administration representatives, Council members, and student publications editors. Their recommendations will be brought back to Council—and they will then decide on the advisability of the recommendations.

Council members were particularly skeptical of the censorship aspect of the proposed board. They also voiced criticism of the method in which the 'Board Plan' was proposed. Members felt that the Board should have been a Council project.

The next meeting of Student Council will entertain discussion on the Board of Publications, Men's Student Government, and the Student Court.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I wish to inquire into the absence of any representative from I.C.'s large Music Department at home football games. West Chester managed to bring a few instruments all the way to Ithaca—and these enabled the small visitor's cheering section to outrank I.C.'s greater numbers. Ithaca College, it seems, can not even bring a band up the South Hill.

Perhaps we are over-rated musically. Perhaps we can not gather together any successful marching band.

I.C. has a good football team, school spirit has increased, and big time sports on a big time campus loom ahead. Where will the band be? Still in town? It may be too late for a band this year, but let's plan for a successful halftime show at each football game next year. A halftime that will have a band, in uniform, with instruments, playing music.

Sincerely,
Dick Colangelo

(Bennett Portrait)

Ithaca College students began voting this morning for the Fall Weekend Court to be crowned at the "Star Dust Ball" Saturday night at the V.F.W.

Seniors will select their King and Queen from among six finalists, survivors of the preliminary balloting. Among the candidates for King are Ron Daley, last year's spring weekend Prince, a P.E. major, and Ron Serapilio, starting fullback on the varsity squad and a clarinet major in the School of Music. The third finalist, Tom Costello, is a former vice-president of the Student Council and a member of the varsity soccer and golf teams.

In the finals of the Queen contest are Mimi Teleisha, Micki Oppenheim, and Dotty Koletnick. Miss Teleisha, perennial finalist has won various contests in her four years at Ithaca including Rose of Delta Sig and Queen of Phi Epsilon Kappa's Sweethearts Ball. Micki Oppenheim was last year's Spring Week-end Princess. Dotty Koletnick is a Music major and a member of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Running for Prince this year is Dave Canteen, junior class President and Managing Editor of The Ithacan. Canteen is a Radio-TV major. Jim Garoufes, another finalist, is a Voice major who starred in Guys and Dolls, last year's spring musical. He can be seen weekly as host on WICB-TV's "Showcase" presentation. The third candidate, Jay Tarses, a Drama major, was featured in the Drama Department's presentation of The Bad Seed as well as Guys and Dolls. Tarses also holds down the position of News Editor of The Ithacan.

Juniors have their choice of four young ladies for Princess as a result of a tie in the voting. Barbara Parlato, a Math major, was last year's Queen of the Sweethearts Ball. She is also junior class treasurer. A member of the School of Music, Liz Brown, has been very active in junior class functions. Sue Ann Lurie, another student in the School of Music was a sophomore attendant on last year's Spring Week-End court and is now Secretary to the Student Council. Louise Schneider of the English department is vice-president of WSG and a dorm counselor.

The Sophomore attendant contestants are Rosemarie Celleli, last year's Spring Week-End freshman attendant, and Amanda Ober and Amy Lou Richards, members of the School of Music.

Finalists for Freshman Attendant are Sue Halsey, Joan Walters, Lynn Roda, and Rachel Newbell.

WAA NEWS

WAA recreational activities are slated to begin tonight at 7:30 in the Seneca Gym. All departments are invited to participate in the program.

In addition, the WAA intramurals have been underway for a week, although the turn-out has been well below what was originally expected. For those interested in field hockey but inconvenienced by transportation, a bus will be provided at 3 p.m.

Last night elections were held for freshmen WAA representatives at South Hill campus. Results of the election will be published in the next edition of the ITHACAN.

Stamp Buffs To Meet Weekly; Buy, Sell, Trade Specimens

All Ithaca College students and faculty members interested in any phase of stamp collecting are welcome at meetings of the Ithaca Philatelic Society held every Monday evening in room 21 of the annex.

The meetings are usually on an informal basis, with activity starting between 7:30 and 8 p.m. and continuing for about two hours. Occasionally there is a special program with a local collector or guest speaker discussing his collection or some phase of collecting. Normally, however, the evening is spent in trading or purchasing stamps from other collectors. On the fourth Monday of each month the club holds a stamp auction, at which collectors can pick up a wide variety of material at a fraction of catalog value. A limited quantity of philatelic supplies (hinges, tongs, envelopes, etc.) are on sale during the meeting. Members receive a small monthly newsletter telling of coming programs and activities, and listing members' want lists.

The club is made up of over 35 collectors having a wide range of interests; United States, Canada (and BNA), Pakistan, Israel, Japan, Germany, Switzerland, South and Central America, N.N.; world-wide collections, topicals, plate blocks, precancels, postal stationery, and covers. Several members are nationally-known experts in their specialized fields; others are new to the hobby and just starting collections. This broad range of interests and activity enables anyone inter-

I. C. Music

By Lois Chaber

The Ithaca College chapter of the Music Educator's National Conference serves both as an example of a smooth-functioning college organization here at I.C. and as a valuable asset to the School of Music. What does this affiliation with a nation-wide organization mean? By taking a quick peek at the anatomy of the tremendous scope of the M.E.N.C.

Membership in the M.E.N.C. is effective at the state, division, and national levels. Within this framework, three member classifications exist: active—open to all persons engaged in music teaching or other music education work, special active—open to all persons available for active membership, and student membership—open to undergraduate students of music education through their enrollment in M.E.N.C. collegiate chapters. Student membership is organized on the basis of group enrollment and these student members are entitled to the national and the state official periodicals and all other privileges of active membership except voting and holding office outside of their own college chapter.

The student membership plan is one of reciprocal benefits in that each individual is personally aided by his active participation in programs, demonstrations, discussions, performing groups, etc. while music education profession will be benefiting from the heightened calibre of these students when they enter the ranks of the profession proper. Through M.E.N.C. the music education student gains in his conception of his future profession in addition to becoming acquainted with the leaders in music education and general education. When a student member does accept his first teaching position, he is automatically transferred to active M.E.N.C. membership status for the remainder of the year.

The individual Ithaca College M.E.N.C. member is most probably aware that he is affiliated with an organization composed of fifty-one federated music educators' associations in each state and in the district of Columbia—grouped in six geographical divisions. This far-reaching organization functions through a hierarchy extending from the National Board of Directors down to the autonomous but inter-related offices and boards of each state and division.

The M.E.N.C. has been jubilant over its most recent achievements. The 36,846 members of the 1960-61 gave evidence to a successful numerical tally. The 1961 Division meetings of the M.E.N.C. are also considered to have been highly successful as to performances, program planning, and attendance. Anticipations for this are higher still—as judging from the new membership high of 37,000 members.

Ithaca College Chapter 219 has a few boasts and predictions of its own to make. 150 music students from all classes enrolled in the M.E.N.C. during registration. An attractive and informative program for the year has already been set up and includes several panel discussions by experts in the field of music education, demonstrations by outstanding public school music groups, noted speakers and lecturers, the annual dance, the N.Y.S.S.M.A. Festival on May 11 and 12.

The initial activity of the year came off with a flourish last Sunday, October 8. Two busloads of M.E.N.C. were transported to the Tri-Cities Opera Workshop special students performance of Verdi's "La Traviata." Student performance were presented both Saturday and Sunday in the Masonic Temple, Sunday's performance was thoroughly enjoyed by the M.E.N.C. members who attended, and for those who may still want to see "La Traviata," the remaining performances are on October 20 and 21 at 8:30 p.m. and October 22 at 3:30 p.m.

Next Wednesday, October 25 auditions will be held for the Concerto Concert. Those music students auditioning will be heard by a faculty committee at the Music Hall. The Concerto Concert is an annual event in the School of Music and will be held on January 14 this year. The soloists chosen will perform to the accompaniment of the Ithaca College Orchestra on that occasion.

In February, the Oracle Society will again present SCAMPERS, the annual student musical. SCAMPERS has long been a permanent fixture at Ithaca College, with the entire box office return entered into the Oracle Loan Fund.

Roger H. Ahrens will be this year's production manager and Craig C. MacNab will be the SCAMPERS director. Alvin Leach is the faculty advisor.

Plans are already underway to set this year's SCAMPERS in motion. A sign-up sheet for crew and business positions will be found on regular SCAMPERS bulletin board adjacent to the snack bar, and on the Drama bulletin board outside the Green Room.

Since SCAMPERS is entirely a student-produced, student-presented show, talent and effort from all departments on campus will be needed to make SCAMPERS '62 a success. Written material, in the form of skits, variety shows, and "book shows" should be submitted to the production manager by November 15th. This material may be a single or collaborative effort. The skits and variety entertainment may be single efforts in themselves, but the "book" shows must be as complete lyrically and musically as possible. All written material must be original.

The following crew and business positions are available on the aforehand-mentioned sign-up sheet: scenic designer, technical director, choreographer, musical director, choral director, costume designer, stage manager, assistant stage manager, property mistress (master), advertising manager, publicity manager, box office manager, and house manager. The people for these positions will be chosen by the Production Manager, Director and a small group of faculty members.

Last year's SCAMPERS, "Two Tickets to Heaven", employed over 50 students from all departments. And, to date, the Oracle Loan Fund has accumulated over $15,000 from the production of this annual student musical, with 155 students completing their education at Ithaca College due to the fund's existence.

New Programs, Stand-Bys Dot WICB-TV Fall Schedule

by Donna Lee Andersen

With the start of a new school year the Ithaca College Radio and Television stations are gradually resuming a full broadcasting schedule. These three stations, WICB-CATV (Channel 2), WICB-AM and FM, are operated in this area mainly to inform the viewer and provide an outlet for expression of local ideas and talent.

Ithaca College broadcasts its television programming to more than 5,600 set via a community antenna system. Through the cooperation of the local CATV franchise holder and the New York Telephone Company, one of the system's channels is pre-empted on the College's behalf for as long as required for the evening's educational, cultural, and informational programming. When the College is not sending live programming through the cable channel, programs of the network affiliated stations are carried.

The television studios begin their week with "Tempo" on Monday night at 7:00. This is a program of vocal and instrumental, classical and modern music by artists of Ithaca College, Cornell University, the public schools and the community at large. Hosted by Bryn Matthews, a Drama major, programs in October will feature The Sherwoods, Sigma Alpha Iota and Marilyn Eller, pianist. Immediately following "Tempo" is a provocative show called "Controversy." This program draws upon experts of the community to present various points of view and to discuss issues of the community, nation and in some cases, the universe.

On Wednesday night Maria Stalos and her court jester, Robert Billings, present "Mea's Wonderful Castle", fifteen minutes of riddles and fairy tales designed to amuse children up to the third grade. At 6:15 "Community Spotlight" concentrates on business, leisure, school, work, and service activities of the community. In October films and models of the newly occupied Ithaca College campus will be presented. "Showcase" with host Jim Garoufes, appears at 8:30. This is a local "Como-ized" show featuring talent and wit from the surrounding area.

Finally, on Friday night, "Perspective" will collate the significant events of the week in the far corners of the world, nationally and on the local scene. Immediately following "Perspective", at 6:15 "Economic Perspective" will view the news through the economist's eyes and relate its impact on the economic scene. At 6:20 "Sports Review and Preview" presents current standings, significant developments of the past week, and previews of the next.

The programs are under the student direction of Barry Ostrow, Scotty Mampe, Doug Trenner, Phil English, Don Rich, Lars Allanson and Mike Verno. All are members of the Radio-Television department. Two of these, Scotty Mampe and Barry Ostrow, are currently directing an original musical comedy called "Saratoga" which will be aired on November 14.

The Radio staff is also very active. To provide the area with better reception the staff members are now in the process of moving the FM transmitter from the Music Building Annex to the roof of the Radio-Television Studios on the top floor of the Library Building. Both AM and FM stations begin broadcasting at 5:00 p.m. every day with popular music and spot newscasts. Some of the newscasts, such as "Washington Presents to the People", are designed to express different points of view on current events. For greater variety, other programs include "Radio Canada Playhouse", a full-length opera every week, and remote broadcasts of Ithaca College and Ithaca High School home basketball games and wrestling matches. For varied entertainment at any time, WICB-FM can be found at 91.7 on your radio dial.

Local Board Head Clarifies New Forces Build-Up

"Selective Service policies and procedures will not change as a result of the current increase in induction calls to build up the armed forces," Mr. Charles Downey, Chairman of Local Board No. 62 of Tompkins County said today.

The local board office is being flooded with telephone calls and visitors concerning their status under the Selective Service law and questions covering the entire range of military obligation.

Mr. Downey said, "Although the deferment policies are not expected to change, the increased induction calls make it imperative that a registrant keep the local board advised, in writing, of current address, occupation, marital status or other matters affecting availability for service."

The Chairman pointed out that classification is the key to the selection of registrants for military service, based on the requirements of the national health, safety and interest in accordance with current laws and regulations. Each registrant is classified on the basis of his file and it is to his advantage, written information contained in as well as his obligation under penalty of the law, to make sure his file is complete and up-to-date.

The steps to be followed by a registrant to be certain the local board properly classifies him are:

- a. Return questionnaires and respond to all requests from his local board promptly.
- b. Keep his local board informed of current address and changes in status such as change in employment, dependency, student enrollment, physical condition or membership in a reserve component.

It is the local board's responsibility to decide, subject to appeal, the class in which each registrant shall be placed. Each registrant is considered as available for military service until his eligibility for deferment or exemption from military service is clearly established to the satisfaction of the local board.

Each registrant will be placed in the particular class to which he is entitled according to the information in his file.

Plans Proposed For New Mascot; Students To Vote

Ithaca College wants a new mascot. We have gone through many years as the "Bombers," but being loyal to a bomber stretches the imagination.

A mascot will be chosen from suggestions presented by the student body. What will the new mascot be? A lion, tiger, moose, mink, mongoose, lama? It's up to you the students.

Make your choice on the form provide below and place it in the contest box in the library.

QUESTION: Do you feel that the death of Dag Hammarskjold means the end of the United Nations as an organization of world peace?

Mike Siegel—Physio '63

I don't think the future should be hindered by the death of one man. One human being cannot change the political situation of the whole world and someone just as qualified can take his place. If Russia is interested in world peace and they feel that the U. N. is a contributing factor, they probably will veto the proposal for a pro-western Secretary-General because their ideas will be subordinated. It's just a matter of indecision in the light of world tensions and I don't think the problem will be solved for a while.

Shari Mayer—English '63

I feel that if the U. N. is the unifying force of the world today, the Secretary-Generalship problem will be solved through mature arbitration, in a manner which will benefit the world. I don't think Hammarskjold's death will prove to be a disintegrating factor. We've lived long enough with the Russian veto and know how to cope with it. I don't think anyone connected with the U. N. can really be neutral, therefore, some alternative will have to be reached.

Dave Hansen—Physical Ed. '62

If there is a bloc I feel that there is no future for the U.N. Something along the lines of a board in place of a secretary-general may work. I am very pessimistic as far as any other alternatives are concerned.

I definitely feel that there is a future but it's going to be a lot rougher due to the Soviet Bloc. If they do, the U. N. has no future. If there is no secretary-general, the U. N. will be less functional than it has been because the Russians will have more control and stop everything they don't like. The best thing would be to settle this as soon as possible, but since Russia will block any prowestern moves, the only thing is for the pro-western countries to really get together and take a stand. With Russia in the strong position they are now, they are going to make things mighty tough.

June Conrey—Drama '62

The future of the U. N. depends on whether or not Russia gets their "Troika" system. If they do, the U. N. has no future. The only alternative for the future of the U. N. is a "neutral" secretary-general. I think Russia will do anything they can to gain complete control. They may settle for less, but I doubt it.

Cindy Stampler—Music '63

Yes, I think there is a future. The U. N. wasn't founded on Hammarskjold and therefore can exist without him. Russia is going to push moves which will benefit herself and her allies and it won't be what the free world wants. Kennedy won't give into Russia's demands either. There can be no happy medium but there can be a compromise. Perhaps an entire revision of the U. N. charter with provisions for the election of a new secretary-general outside of the security council would be a safe out.

first down. Gene Monje was then thrown for a five yard loss. Vogt, who couldn't find a receiver open on the following play, scampered to the 12 yard line for another first down. The same happened on the very next play—only this time the ball got loose from Vogt and Cortland recovered.

The Dragons couldn't move the ball and were forced to punt to midfield. Vogt then nailed Ed Farquhar with a pass that went for 16 yards, and Lockwood sped off tackle for eight more. Ron Serapilio got the first down on the 24 yard line and Odell cut around the left end to go the rest of way, but a clipping penalty nullified the run, and the score, put the ball back on the 36 yard line. Bob Valesente dug out two yards before Karas tossed up the middle to Odell who carried to the five yard line. Serapilio was dropped back to the nine but Odell found daylight around the left end again for six points, and the Bombers left at halftime leading 21-0.

Cortland threatened just before the half, penetrating to the IC 14 yard line with 50 seconds to go, but the winner's defense held and took over on downs.

The homesters only scored twice in the second half, but threatened on several occasions.

On the third play of the second half, Ithaca's John Miller intercepted a pass and returned it to Cortland's 38 yard line. On fourth down with the ball resting on the 36 yard line, Karas took to the air and tossed up the middle to Odell who went the distance with a key block from Segal on the 25 yard line. Vurko converted and the score was 28-0.

The Blue and Gold drove from their own 35 yard line to Cortland's one yard line the next time they laid their hands on the ball, but a loss and a penalty halted the touchdown threat. Curko attempted a field goal from the 26 yard line, but it went wide to the right of the goal posts.

Five plays later George Neher recovered another fumble on the Cortland 28 yard line. Serapilio, Valesente and Odell drove for four, three and 16 yards respectively, before Valesente sliced off tackle for the winner's last touchdown. The two point conversion failed.

The Dragons threatened with a 42 yard pass play from quarterback Mike Nugent to Gerald Hill and a nine yard charge up the middle by Larry St. John to Ithaca's 14 yard line, but two loss plays thwarted the advancement and IC took over.

The Bombers then traveled 74 yards in nine downs to the visitor's nine yard line capped by a 31 yard pass play from Vogt to Paul Wilson, but a bad lateral resulted in a fumble and another drive came to a stop.

Another long pass, this time from Tucci to Jack King, went for 35 yards, putting the ball in Ithaca territory on the 37 yard line. Two plays later Tucci found Steve Gold on the 19 yard line, but again the IC defense pushed them back and halted their final scoring attempt with time running out.

Time and time again throughout the game the Bomber defense were stalwarts in the Dragon's offensive punch. Coach Lyon stated, "It was a tremendous squad effort! It's hard to pick out any real outstanding ball player when everyone put out and did well!"

Along with Odell in the rushing department, Valesente had 20 yards on six carries, Lockwood compiled 43 yards in eight plays, and Vogt collected 38 on seven runs from scrimmage.

Another strong point that added effect to the win was John Yengo's punting. The five-foot ten-inch junior only had to boot three official times but he made the most of it averaging 46 yards. His longest punt, which was marked at 54 yards, did not count.

Bombers Face Southern Conn. Saturday

Frosh Eleven Beats CSTC Face U.B. Next Saturday

After a slow start Friday, the Ithaca College freshmen football team pounded out a 21-0 decision at Cortland to remain undefeated in its second straight contest. The local boys have a rest this week but will be preparing themselves for their trip to Buffalo next Saturday to take on the Buffalo University Cubs.

Ithaca's first scoring opportunity came in the second stanza when Dick Clay recovered a fumble on Cortland's 19 yard line. Four plays later Bill Blokker carried around right end for the touchdown. The conversion by John Baker was wide and the visitors were ahead 6-0.

With the wind in their favor during the second period, the young Bombers began throwing more. Quarterback Pete Kuczma intercepted a pass and returned it to the Cortland 3 yard line. After a 15 yard penalty put the ball on the 2 yard line, Lenny Munlick scooted around left end to the five yard line only to fumble to teammate guard and co-captain Jim Beebe, who picked the ball out of the air and went the remaining distance for the tally. Gary Soldato ran for the extra two points.

The final TD came in the last quarter when another Kuczma-Muhlich aerial clicked, this time for about 40 yards. Baker converted and the IC freshmen won 21-0.

Cortland threatened a couple of times in the opening 15 minutes, but good sound defense thwarted the advances. After that, the little Red Dragons never penetrated within IC's 30 yard line.

The winners started off slowly, but Baker booted his mates out of trouble on occasions, averaging between 45-50 yards a punt.

Coach Vincent Messina regarded the game as "well-played," and that "tackle John Carraciale was by far the outstanding player." The Liberal Arts major was in on many of the tackles and was a terror on blocking offensively.

Varsity Booters Lose To Hobart Record Now 4-1

The Ithaca College varsity soccer team beat Hobart last week, 1-0, but had its undefeated record of 4-0-1, tarnished by the University of Rochester by a score of 3-1. Both games were hard contests, presenting much excitement to the spectators.

The first game, Wednesday, went scoreless until halfway through the fourth quarter. With 12 minutes left to play, Harry Nephleotus booted a penalty kick into the nets. The Bomber's defense then continued to contain Hobart for the remainder of the game with outstanding effort coming from co-captains John Ziabro and Tom Costello.

Saturday's was a cold, wet contest that made playing conditions sloppy. Skip Lynn scored Ithaca's only tally on an assist by Len Cross with eight minutes gone in the first quarter.

The visitors then came back in the second stanza to knot the count at one apiece. The Yellow Jacket's left wing, Chuck Ruthfess, then sparked his teammates to victory with an assist for a score and another goal coming with 14 and 12 minutes to go respectively in the fourth period.

Ithaca plays host to R.I.T. tomorrow at 11:30 a.m. at Titus Flats.

Carr Elected VP By PEK Brothers

Larry Carr was elected vice-president of Phi Epsilon Kappa at the organization's first meeting of the school year.

Carr, a junior, has participated in freshmen football and varsity basketball, baseball, and gymnastics. He was on the Dean's list the past semester and participated in IC's Big Brother program. During his freshmen year he was voted the outstanding wrestler in the annual interclass tournament.

Roberta Christina, formerly vice-president, has assumed the position of president. Former president Richard Jennings did not return to school this fall.

by Bruce Theobald

Even though the Ithaca Bombers are flying high, they will have their hands full this Saturday when highly rated Southern Connecticut State Teachers College invades South Hill for the Fall Weekend sport's highlight. Game time is slated for 2 p.m.

The Ithacans will be out to erase a 24-7 blemish that the Owls pasted on them last year in the inaugural tilt of their series. To do this, Coach Lyon will resort to the same starting line-up which power-housed Cortland last Saturday, 34-0, for its third straight win in four contests.

Southern Connecticut, on the other hand, will try to bounce back after losing to Youngstown 28-8, on a muddy, rainy day in Ohio. That loss evened their record at 2-2.

Record 3-1

Ithaca has scored over Hobart (19-6), Kings (0-13), and Cortland while losing 13-7 to West Chester. The Owls have beaten Bridgeport (13-8) and Geneva 60-0, while suffering losses to Maryland State (7-6; lost the game in the last three minutes of play) and Youngstown.

Serapilio-Neher Named

For this contest, the coaching staff has selected fullback Ron Serapilio and guard George Neher as co-captains. Serapilio, last year's leading ground gainer, was injured at the beginning of the season but returned to action in the Cortland game. Neher was a prominent figure in IC's triumph last week, intercepting a pass, recovering a fumble, and making key blocks and tackles consistently.

The squad may have lost the services of end Ben Morselli and halfback Gene Monje as a result of injuries in last week's tussle with the Red Dragons. Morselli suffered a cracked rib and Monje a possible broken toe.

Returning for IC in this week's encounter with Southern Connecticut will be fullback Ron Bouchier and halfback Buddy Brooke. Bouchier is back in action after tearing a knee ligament in the Kings game. Brooke from a sprained ankle occurring in the Hobart clash.

Although their record is not two impressive, this year's Southern Connecticut team was reported in preseason as most balanced attack in the college's successful 14-year football history. The line, averaging 212 pounds and six-feet per man, is a formidable phalanx of senior veterans. Even though there are 19 lettermen that have returned from last year's squad, depth poses a problem.

Scouting reports confirm this preseason outlook. Assistant coach Vincent Messina feels that they have a "strong team, and a good backfield with speed and size. The quarterbacks are real fine throwers and they have good receivers. The team plays a very aggressive game and are a pressure outfit from the word go." As far as anyone being outstanding, Messina felt that co-captain Gennaro Germe was "excellent at center," and that "fullback Ferrisi could be put in the same class as West Chester's Iacone. The only difference is that Ferrisi can play defense better."

Coach Lyon added, "We know that they play a major schedule,

Frosh Booters Oust Cornell; Suffer First Loss To Army

by Lou Ricks

After winning its fourth straight match of the year against previously undefeated Cornell, 4-1, the Ithaca College freshman soccer team ran into some trouble against the Army Plebes at West Point and dropped a close "Friday the Thirteenth" decision to the fired up cadets, 3-2.

In the Cornell game, I.C.'s first goal was scored by Cornell, Gary Cornell. This started the Bombers on their way to the one-sided 4-1 victory. Ithaca rattled the Big Red nets twice more in the first period on goals by left inside Gerd Lutter and left halfback Terry Quinn. Except for a third period lapse in which Cornell tallied their lone score, play was dominated throughout by the Blue and Gold. The final goal for the junior Bombers was headed into the net by Lane Pettibone in the fourth period.

It was a different story at West Point, however, as the Plebes scored two first period goals and were never headed. Gary Cornell, once again scored I.C.'s first goal as the Ithacans didn't hit the scoring column until the third period. Frank Clark was responsible for the only other Bomber tally as he found the mark in the fourth period.

Three games are on tap for Coach Carp Woods' Bombers this week. After a rematch with the Cornell frosh here tomorrow at 3:00, they travel to Geneva for a game with the Hobart freshmen on Monday, and then wind up their season at home against the arch-rival Cortland junior varsity on Wednesday.

Forensic Assoc. Announces Plans

The Ithaca College Forensic Association has begun to plan its activities for this year. This year's program will be a very extensive one, due to a large increase in the organization's budget.

The debating team engages in a number of new and challenging tournaments, which include the St. Andrews Tournament in Rochester, the University of Rochester's Genet Tournament, the University of Western Ontario's Tournament in Ontario, Canada, and the Harvard University Tournament at Cambridge, Massachusetts. The topic for debate, "Resolves that labor unions be placed under anti-trust legislation", is a very timely one, and the subject is causing quite a bit of controversy around the nation.

Mr. Skaine, the association's advisor, feels that the team should do very well, because they now have a year of experience under their belts. He also feels that with an excellent novice program, which is now being formed, the varsity team will be given definite incentive; this will be the stimulus for possible winning teams in the future.

The I.C.F.A. encourages all interested students to participate, guaranteeing them both intellectual broadening and personal enjoyable experiences.

The Forensic Association meets on Wednesday evening at 8:00 in room S of the Speech building.

Marine Officer Training Program To Be Explained

Marine Lieutenant Joe P. Sanders, Officer Selection Officer, will visit Ithaca on Oct. 23, 24, '61 between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. to discuss the Marine Officer Training Programs available to college students, and interview those students interested. He will be situated at Library Arts annex.

Lieutenant Sanders points out that all Marine training in the undergraduate programs is done during the summer with no interference during the school year. Other features include starting monthly pay up to $582.00; selection of training either as a Marine Pilot or Marine Ground Officer; and assurance of a commission with immediate assignment to active duty upon graduation. The Platoon Leaders Class and the Platoon Leaders Class (Aviation) programs are available to freshmen, sophomores, and juniors.

Lieutenant Sanders also states that for the college senior the Marine Corps offers a commission upon successful completion of ten week Officer Candidate Course. Again, the option of selecting ground or aviation training is provided.

For further information see Lieutenant Sanders when he visits the campus on Oct. 23, 24, '61 or write Officer Selection Officer, Rooms 1222-1224, Chimes Building, Syracuse 2, New York.
